I can hereby confirm that my company Evolving Traditions, who organizes the concert series The Baghdad Sessions together with the Swedish Arabic Culture Center in Malmö, had the great honor of inviting

Dr. Nağme Yarkın

To Malmö on the 8th to 11th of May to perform in one of our concerts at the venue Moriska Paviljongen. She took part playing Turkish kamanche and singing in an ensemble together with Hedda Heiskanen on Persian kamancheh, Ghazwan Numan playing the viola in Arabic style, and me on the Baritone saxophone. The repertoire was a mix of Persian, Turkish and Arabic music. The concert was very appreciated and was visited by around 150 persons. It was a part of a bigger one day mini festival, Folk Folk Folk arranged by several concert arrangers in Malmö together with Musik i Syd, the regional music organisation of Southern Sweden. We were very happy to have Dr Yarkın take part.

Sincerely,

Pär Moberg,
owner of the company Evolving Traditions.
Assistant professor of Folk and World music, Malmö Academy of Music.
